

Assistant Professor Nyamazao Amos of the Graduate School of Nursing at Chiba University attended the ICN Congress 2023 in Montreal to present the findings of a joint research project conducted in partnership with JUKI Corporation.

Assistant Professor Nyamazao Amos of the Graduate School of Nursing at Chiba University attended the ICN Congress 2023 in Montreal (4 July 2023) to present the findings of a joint research project conducted in partnership with JUKI Corporation. The research aimed to acquire knowledge defining the optimal use of autonomous robots to care for people with dementia in medical and nursing homes and is entitled “Considering Requirements for Implementing Autonomous Robots in Nursing Homes.” This news will also be published on the JUKI website.

